

It's Poetry Month in Center City!

April is poetry month—and we want to celebrate!

Directions: Read about the characters below. Using the Fly Five characters as inspiration, write a poem that is about one character you love or even from their point of view.

Anisa

Anisa spends lots of time journaling, writing, and expanding her photography portfolio. Anisa can find inspiration anywhere, but spending time at her local museum to examine other local artists' work is particularly inspiring to her.

Blake

Blake enjoys team sports, like baseball, and can be found gathering a group together to hang out at the skatepark. Blake thrives when he can entertain his friends and make everyone in the room laugh.

Doba

Doba is a musician, and she can spend hours writing original songs. She finds musical inspiration not only in nature but also in art and music of the musicians she admires.

Gabriel

Gabriel is a deep thinker who uses art to express himself and understand the world around him. He connects with graphic novels and spends his free time working on his own graphic novel series.

Imani

Imani loves performances of any kind: dancing, singing, acting, or all three at once! When she is not in rehearsals or performing, Imani likes trying adventurous sports like rock climbing or zip-lining.

Jade

Jade finds adventure in reading comic books and fantasy novels. Jade loves all animals and spending quiet days with her little brother, Hunter, and her cat, Marigold.

Kofi

Kofi is focused and he loves soccer, math and science. Kofi enjoys a challenge, and he spends as much time as he needs to persevere through problems.

Luna

Luna is a natural leader and loves gymnastics. She enjoys spending time with her teammates and thrives when she has to lead the team into a competition.

Shen

Shen values his family and community and loves to spend time helping others. He is interested in fashion and creatively finds ways to weave diverse trends into his wardrobe.
